

Worship is the submission of all our nature to God. It is the quickening of conscience by His holiness, the nourishment of the mind with His truth, the purifying of the imagination by His beauty, the opening of the heart to His love, the surrender of the will to His purpose.

William Temple
Archbishop of Canterbury

Christianity is known for its emphasis on love. But there are times when we are told to hate—we are told to hate what is evil while we cling to what is good (Romans 12:9). Abhor is a better translation to hate because it carries the idea of revulsion—of shrinking back with disgust and detestation.

It is an active word, we are to actively pull away from that which is evil. So when it comes to evil, we are to back away in disgust, but we are to glue ourselves to that which is good.

Ever Faithful
David Jeremiah

I have found that the technique of the enemy in these last days is threefold:

1. He seeks to isolate us from the power and presence of God.

2. He wants to diminish this moment in which we live—to distract us from immediate opportunities that God provides.

3. He wants to polarize and isolate us with fear.

One Nation Without Law
Phil Hotsenpiller

While it may seem that the world is spinning out of control, the reality is that God is moving people and nations towards a desired end. If we step back and look at the history of humanity, we can see how God has arranged the details of the past and we can trust Him to oversee the events of the future.

One Nation Without Law

Phil Hotsenpiller

