

We are living at a time when the power of influence is sorely needed. Fake news, social media trolls, and widespread suspicion of others have combined to create a culture of outrage. It seems that each day brings louder shouting, less communicating, and a greater gap. We desperately need more people to realize the tremendous power of influence and to use it in positive ways.

The Power of Your Influence

Stan Toler

We wonder why we are overwhelmed, confused, and defeated so much of our lives. If you are not interacting with or personally feeding from the words of God, you are slowly starving yourself.

You are becoming dangerously malnourished in your soul and spirit.

Manna
Steve Farrar

The Word of God contains our amino acids, our vitamins, and our minerals. It contains everything we require in order to maintain mental, emotional, and relational health and strength. We cannot live without this food from God.

Manna
Steve Farrar

