

Seeking the kingdom and repentance go hand in hand. We enter the kingdom through repentance by faith. And we seek the rule and reign of Jesus through repentance when His Spirit points out the false kings we have run toward. Repentance unites us with Christ, and repentance continues us on toward Christlikeness. Change is a long process, and it is fueled by repentance.

We pray the prayer of repentance, the one Jesus taught us: "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done. This is a prayer that leads us away from self-rule and self-agenda. This is the prayer that returns us under the rule and reign of Jesus. Repentance, though painful at times, is a gift in the kingdom of God. Because through repentance we find life.

There is no pride in heaven. Do you think we will care what we look like when we sit before the King of Kings one day? Nope. Our very response will be, "Holy, holy, holy!" Then why do we struggle with our pride now? There comes a place where all our pride is laid down for the glory of God. Like David we become unrestrained. When we worship without caring what it looks like or the response of others watching, it is a sweet incense unto the Lord.

Accessing the Greater Glory
Larry Sparks & Ana Werner

The Lord is raising up a new breed of psalmist, musician, worship leader whose primary ministry is unto the Lord, not to the people. The people will ultimately be benefited because as these minstrels first connect with the Lord they will capture both the sights and sounds of God's world and be given instructions on how to translate them into this one. Every one of us should make the Holy Spirit's comfort in our lives our top priority.
