

I see a collective of prophets functioning in healthy alignment with other expressions of the church. There are things we need to repent of, let go of, and turn away from. Likewise, there are superior realities we need to taste of and turn toward. The prophetic voice of this hour will call the people of God out of the inferior for the purpose of calling them into the superior.

For us to experience the outpouring that will come out of the church and bring true kingdom impact, we need to live as a people who are on the prophetic edge. With the Scriptures as our foundation and cornerstone, we are summoned to live as pioneers with ears to Heaven.

We live in a culture where many people define Jesus by their own opinion. But Jesus does not allow for this. We must define Jesus by His terms and accept Him by those terms if we want His lifegiving power and salvation.

Jesus Loves Me

We grow by believing what God says in His Word and then by obeying it. It is a simple daily process. Believe—obey. Believe—obey. Just as children grow by eating and moving, we grow by believing and obeying.

Jesus Loves Me
John Dickerson

Father, I come to You in the Name and finished work of Jesus. I thank You that the blood speaks on my behalf. I am not waiting for You to touch me; on the basis of Your word, I will touch You. Just like the woman with the issue of blood in Luke 8, I press through to touch You. I am entering into Your Presence. I am drawing near to You.

Even now, Holy Spirit, make me increasingly aware of Christ in me and me in Christ. Open my eyes to these realities. May I experience them, not just know about them. Right now, I step in. I enter in. I don't wait for God to come down; I go up. I step in, by faith, into a real place called Mount Zion. I come into Your manifest Presence because of Jesus' blood.

I dedicate myself afresh to be a living sacrifice. I surrender control of my life, my rights, my ways, and my thoughts to You. May your fire fall afresh on my life and consume me as an offering.
